At Wellspring, we are committed to YOU. You are a beacon of Hope for the people we serve, and we want the WellspringYOU intranet site to be a place where you feel supported and celebrated. This is a starting point as we begin this journey, and we look forward to expanding and growing along with you as we learn more about what should be included in the pages to follow. So, take a moment and tour the site! If you have feedback or find there are things you would like to see included, please email wellspringyou@wellspringlutheran.com.
